
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost I want to thank the Creator for infusing me with Life and Love and making all things possible. This book is intended to be a direct translation of Spirit, as I understand it to be speaking in and through me, as it does through all things.

I would like to thank my parents, for whom I have great love and respect.

My father Ron Thibodeau has been my best friend and teacher for my entire life. With his gentle patience, strength, wisdom, loving kindness, presence, and deep spirituality, he has given me a picture of manhood to aspire towards. I also share his love for deep reflective talks, teaching, helping others, and sports.

My mother MaryElizabeth Thibodeau has been an unswerving example of strength, grace and love in the face of great adversity. She has shown me what it is to love others first, to teach in the spirit of giving and helping, and to give humor its proper place at the throne of emotional expression. I also share her passions for writing and singing.

Both parents have taught me that I am lovable, capable and free.

I would also like to thank Katie, my soulmate, for her love, inner and outer beauty, acceptance, support, patience, strength, partnership and understanding. Thank you for being such an important part of my life. I will love you forever!

Finally, I would like to send a very warm and grateful thank you to all my friends and family, too many to list here, who have shared with me their love and their lives. I am deeply thankful for all that you have given and continue to give me. You are all alive within me and have contributed to this book simply by being in my life.
